DESCRIPTION

Rover Mini Cooper RSP in black with a white roof, bonnet stripes and mirrors. The RSP (Rover Special Product) was made by John Cooper to reintroduce the mini Cooper back into production. From 1971 – 1990 the mini Cooper was not made and the only available cars were 998cc minis. John Cooper fitted a Metro 1275cc engine to a Mini 30 plus added some Cooper touches like bonnet stripes, white roof, and Minilite alloy wheels and 1050 were produced for the UK market. Due to the success of this car the mini Cooper then sold for an additional 10 years until the new BMW mini was made. This example is one of the last registered and is in outstanding, original and time warp condition. I sold it to its last owner in 2013 on just 6250 miles and since then it has lived in a heated garage. It is now on just 9820 miles from new. It has completed the London to Brighton Mini run on a number of occasions and has been loved and enjoyed. The only non original items are the Yokohama tyres, rear exhaust silencer and it now has height adjustable suspension. I have a thick history file from new supporting the servicing and mileage. I also have the original book pack and both sets of keys. The interior is also immaculate and it is hard to believe that the car is 31 years old! The RSP minis have a reputation of driving well and this one feels responsive and precise and great fun. The carburettor Mini Coopers like this have a strong following as they are easy to maintain and service and have a more traditional Mini feel to them. This would make an enjoyable mini to own while also being an exciting long term investment. Free delivery to your door within 200
